

An example IDPC Pack for A.Green

The IDPC (Initial Details of the Prosecution Case) is the bundle of evidence which is served upon the defence electronically prior to a client's first appearance at the Magistrates' Court. It usually contains the details of the charge, a summary of the Crown's case – including what was said by the defendant during his police station interview – and a record of the defendant's previous conviction(s). It may also contain other evidence, such as the statements of witnesses or exhibits sought to be relied upon.
